

Upland Primary School Newsletter

Week 31: 15th May 2020

An interesting week...

We would like to say, 'here's some concrete news and information for you all this week' but it would seem things are still a little up in the air!

Rest assured, we will be notifying parents & carers in due course with an update of how the school will be moving forward in light of the latest update from the government.

In the meantime it seems the relatively good weather is holding up and half term is on the horizon and don't forget, 'home-schools' get a half-term too!

Well-Being resources

Don't forget to check our website and click on the 'Our School' tab for links on Well-being resources which may prove very useful at this time.

We are open

Mental Health Awareness Week

Next week, from 18th May, it is Mental Health Awareness Week.

During both this difficult time and pre/post lockdown, positive mental well-being is so important and this website offers good advice on how to support children with a variety of mental health concerns.

Half-Term

The May half-term from 25th May could just feel like another week this year but don't despair. The link below takes you to the CBBC Newsround website where you will find a 100 videos on things to do from craft ideas, cooking videos, interesting short films from around the world and much more.
